In Legal Tender, personal wealth adviser Laetitia Peterson, founder and CEO of The Private Office, unravels the complex relationship that lawyers have (and don't have) with their money. Drawing on findings from extensive interviews with lawyers throughout New Zealand, she explores the ideas of family stewardship, typical money behaviours, attitudes towards money, and lawyers' views on wealth creation. She also delves into the psychological effects of money and the impact of stress and financial worries, as well as the importance of personal resilience and creating a legacy worthy of a life well lived. As the wife of a successful lawyer, she also shares valuable insight from her own experience. At once informative and empowering, Legal Tender will change the way you look at the value of your work as a lawyer and furnish you with sound, money-minding methodologies to care for the things and, more importantly, the people you love.
